

Recorded human consequences are concentrated and structurally heterogeneous

Panels a and b use available numeric outcomes. Panel c models $\log(\text{count} + 1)$ among records with reported building size and GDP (deaths $n=177$; injuries $n=127$). Injury estimates use stabilized reporting weights, while death reporting exceeds 95%; associations are exploratory, conditional on documentation and not incidence effects.